

Android action bar hide and show

Continue

Geeks For Geeks

ActionBar is a primary toolbar within the activity that may display the activity title, application-level navigation affordances, and other interactive items. Although Action Bar is an important feature for android applications, sometimes we have the need to hide it in either the entire app, some particular activity, or during some particular work. This article explains and demonstrates various ways to hide the ActionBar in an Android Application. There are various ways to hide Action Bar, demonstrated below: If you want to hide Action Bar from the entire application (from all Activities and fragments), then you can use this method. Just go to res -> values -> styles.xml and change the base application to "Theme.AppCompat.Light.NoActionBar". Below is the code snippet for this method and changes are made to styles.xml: @color/colorPrimary @color/colorPrimaryDark @color/colorAccent 2. Hide Action Bar from any particular activity using Java code if you want to hide Action Bar from particular activity just add few lines of code in the MainActivity.java file as mentioned in the code snippet below: import android.support.v7.app.AppCompatActivity; import android.view.View; import android.os.Bundle; public class MainActivity extends AppCompatActivity { @Override protected void onCreate(Bundle savedInstanceState) { super.onCreate(savedInstanceState); setContentView(R.layout.activity_main); if (getSupportActionBar() != null) { getSupportActionBar().hide(); } } } import android.support.v7.app.AppCompatActivity; import android.view.View; import android.os.Bundle; class MainActivity : AppCompatActivity() { override fun onCreate(savedInstanceState: Bundle?) { super.onCreate(savedInstanceState); setContentView(R.layout.activity_main); if (supportActionBar != null) { supportActionBar!!.hide() } } } 3. Hide Action Bar while user interaction using WindowManager Another way to hide Action Bar is through WindowManager flag. This approach makes it a lot easier to hide the Action Bar when the user interacts with your application. You can use the "setFlags" function as described below in the code. Also, you have to use flags before setContentView() of Activity. Here is the java file to hide Action Bar: import android.support.v7.app.AppCompatActivity; import android.view.View; import android.os.Bundle; public class MainActivity extends AppCompatActivity { @Override protected void onCreate(Bundle savedInstanceState) { super.onCreate(savedInstanceState); getWindow().setFlags(WindowManager.LayoutParams.FLAG_FULLSCREEN, WindowManager.LayoutParams.FLAG_FULLSCREEN); setContentView(R.layout.activity_main); } } import android.support.v7.app.AppCompatActivity; import android.view.View; import android.os.Bundle; class MainActivity : AppCompatActivity() { override fun onCreate(savedInstanceState: Bundle?) { super.onCreate(savedInstanceState); window.setFlags(WindowManager.LayoutParams.FLAG_FULLSCREEN, WindowManager.LayoutParams.FLAG_FULLSCREEN) setContentView(R.layout.activity_main) } } 4. Hide Action Bar from any particular activity using try-catch if you want to hide Action Bar from particular activity using try-catch blocks just add few lines of code in app > java > package name > MainActivity.java file as mentioned in the code snippet below. Comments are added inside the code to understand the code in more detail. import android.os.Bundle; import androidx.appcompat.app.AppCompatActivity; public class MainActivity extends AppCompatActivity { @Override protected void onCreate(Bundle savedInstanceState) { super.onCreate(savedInstanceState); setContentView(R.layout.activity_main); try { this.supportActionBar().hide(); } catch (NullPointerException e) { } } } import android.os.Bundle; import androidx.appcompat.app.AppCompatActivity; class MainActivity : AppCompatActivity() { override fun onCreate(savedInstanceState: Bundle?) { super.onCreate(savedInstanceState); setContentView(R.layout.activity_main); try { this.supportActionBar!!.hide() } catch (e: NullPointerException) { } } } Implementation of the above approach Create an Android app and choose any one of the above approaches to hide the ActionBar. Define the activity. Here we simply print "GeeksforGeeks" on the screen using a TextView in ConstraintLayout: Navigate to the app > res > layout > activity_main.xml and add the below code to that file. Below is the code for the activity_main.xml file.
