Unbalanced load detection system The automatic unbalanced load detection system detects imbalances and ensures even distribution of the laundry by repeatedly starting and stopping drum spinning. If the laundry is extremely unevenly distributed, the speed is reduced or the spin cycle is not performed for safety reasons. Aqua Sensor Depending on the program and model During a rinse cycle, the Aqua sensor checks the turbidity of the rinsing water (turbidity is caused by dirt and detergent residue). Condensation Drying Bosch uses the residual heat from the warm water inside its tub.
